Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance Announces Winners of the 13th Annual SPFA National Industry Excellence Awards

FAIRFAX, VA – February 7, 2018 – The Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance (SPFA), the educational and technical resource to the spray polyurethane foam (SPF) industry, announced the winners of the 13th Annual SPFA National Industry Excellence Awards. Winners of the prestigious industry awards program represent stand out contractors and projects in the Spray Polyurethane Foam sector in roofing, insulation and specialty applications, as well as in elastomeric coatings. Awards were announced at the awards luncheon held onsite at the Sprayfoam 2018 Convention & Expo in Mobile, Alabama.

"These awards recognize the year's best-in-class industry projects," said Kurt Riesenbergs, executive director of the Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance. "We are really proud of this year's award winners as they showcase not only best practices in the application of materials, but also the exceptional performance and energy efficiency of Spray Polyurethane Foam in a variety of structures."
