Instructors: Mason Knowles
Robb Smith, RRC

These classes are the 2 required Accreditation Classes offered by the Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance (SPFA) to become a SPFA Accredited Roof Inspector. Once the classes have been successfully completed and work history evaluated by the Accreditation Committee, the attendee can become Fully Accredited by the SPFA to become a SPFA Accredited Roof Inspector*

Two (2) Days of SPFA Accreditation Courses

Mason Knowles is one of the leading Spray Foam Consultants in the industry and was the former Executive Director and Technical Director for the SPFA. He has more than 40 years of hands on experience in the sprayfoam industry as a contractor, material supplier/manufacturer, equipment manufacturer, inspector and trade association professional.

Robb Smith is a Senior Consultant with Amtech Roofing Consultants, Inc. and recently relocated to Phoenix, AZ, where he provides investigations, specifications and project management services. He is a RCI Registered Roof Consultant (RRC) Smith has over 25 years of experience in the roofing industry, including experience as a Manufacturer's Representative and Project Manager. Throughout his tenure as a Registered Roof Consultant and other roofing related positions, he has surveyed millions of square feet of roofs, developed reroofing and rehabilitation specifications for hundreds of "roofing only" projects and provided construction quality observations for many of these projects

Mason and Robb are certified by the SPFA to teach these 2 Accreditation Courses, and SPFA will award Certificates of Completion* if the final exams tests are passed. Test will be collected and sent to the SPFA for issuance of the Certificates of Completion.

Costs: Each course costs $250 per person or $450 for both (Note: discounts are available for companies sending more than one person;
